GENERAL [redacted]

SPECIFIC Report of [redacted] 25X1A

25X1A 1. Memoranda 15 through 18 were received during the past week. In reference to memorandum 15, I heartily concur that the reports rendered by [redacted] are excellent. They will be used as guides wherever applicable. It is quite impossible, though, to make absolute comparisons between the organizations. Not only is this organization much smaller, but it is much more limited in its scope of activity. [redacted] repeatedly warns that the organization is currently at its lowest strength. Very little change can be expected until the reorganization plan is approved. The organization is gaining much wanted recognition in the governmental hierarchy just when it is least able to accept additional responsibilities. Please forward the reports from [redacted] as often as possible. 25X1A

2. The other memoranda were duly noted and the enclosures are being utilized as requested. Thank you for the prompt attention to these requests. 25X1A

25X1C 3. The most notable item about [redacted] during the past two weeks is the continuing shift of personnel due to recent resignations. Two more junior research officers are in the process of leaving--one in the [redacted] and one in the [redacted]. Because each research officer is in fact his own/paper, collator, research assistant, file clerk, etc. his leaving is keenly felt in an organization of this size. 25X1C
